

British To Push For Limited West German Rearmament

Bonn Insists Sovereignty Be Restored

LONDON (AP)—The British Cabinet decided at an emergency session Wednesday night to push for limited rearmament of West Germany within the North Atlantic Alliance, official sources said.

At the same time the West German government demanded independence from the Big Three occupying powers and made an indirect bid on its own for NATO membership. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government, ignoring France, announced a foreign policy based on independence, equality and military cooperation with other countries supporting West European unity.

The action in London and Bonn climaxed bitter Western reaction to Monday's vote in France killing the European Defense Community plan to add German military support to a projected unified European army. This plan had been proposed originally by France to avert the setting up of a national German army.

NATO is an alliance stretching from the United States to Turkey with integrated but not unified armed forces. Its 14 members may be increased by unanimous agreement. NATO officials were depending heavily on the establishment of EDC because it appeared to be the only way to get the German units considered vital for Western defense. The death blow to EDC came Tuesday when France dealt EDC now turns Western attention back to NATO.

Diplomatic officials in London said today the United States and Britain had set a secret deadline for starting West German rearmament. They said the Churchill Cabinet had decided to call an eight-power foreign ministers' meeting in London this month to discuss German rearmament. Represented would be the United States, Britain, and the six signers of the EDC treaty—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

American and British ambassadors are expected to outline details of the plan to the Bonn and Paris governments within the next day or two. They also will tell France that Washington and London have set a deadline for starting West German rearmament. French Premier Pierre Mendes-France said Monday, when French adherence to EDC was rejected, that NATO remains the basis of French foreign policy. He also said some action would have to be taken on German sovereignty and the question of German rearmament.

London feels the eight-power conference here would have to be followed by a meeting of the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers. This would be in line with Tuesday's call by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles for a prompt meeting of the 14-country NATO council.

The Bonn announcement that West Germany wants independence from its occupying powers—Britain, the United States and France—gave France a direct slap.

West Has Forces Only Half The Size Of Red Troops In Far East

MANILA (Thursday) (P)—Even if the eight nations attending the Manila conference should agree on formation of an all-Pacific army, the forces they could field if war broke out tomorrow would be only about half the size of the combined Communist forces in the Far East.

The best the West could muster for immediate service in the Pacific would be half a million ground troops and 3,000 combat planes, a highly placed source said Thursday.

China alone is believed to have 600,000 ground troops while Russia could toss another 350,000 foot soldiers into the fray from her Far Eastern garrisons. The combined Communist air force has been estimated at 7,500 combat planes.

Emissaries representing the Philippines, Pakistan, Thailand, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and the United States are gathering here to form an alliance aimed at stopping the spread of communism through Asia.

The Philippines is holding out for an army, navy and air force consisting of troops from every signatory to whatever agreement results from the conference which opens Monday.

The Philippines also want an alliance born here to specify that if one nation is attacked the other seven will come to the rescue. Although it was commonly believed that the United States was backing the Philippines plan and the United Kingdom torpedoing it, a highly placed source reported just the opposite is true.

Early U. S. arrivals say Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who is due Friday, is afraid he could never get his government to approve an alliance which could commit the United States to war without Senate approval.

Thailand is pushing for an all-Pacific army, along with the Philippines, and so far Britain hasn't opposed it. In fact one usually reliable source said the United Kingdom would go for an all-Pacific army if the United States would.

Thailand is the hottest supporter of the Philippine plan because the Thais are afraid their number is coming up next on Red China's invasion schedule.

The United States has roughly eight divisions or 125,000 ground troops in the Far East, plus the Far East air force which consists of 2,500 combat planes.

Navy forces in the Far East are an unknown quantity, so far as the record is concerned.

JOLIET MAN KILLED, CHICAGO WOMAN HURT IN WRECK

CHICAGO (P)—A Joliet man was killed and a prominent Chicago housewife was injured Tuesday in a highway collision in suburban Tinley Park.

Killed in the accident was John H. Langdon of 8005 Kelley avenue, Joliet. The injured woman, in St. James hospital, Chicago Heights, is Mrs. Emil Denemark, owner of a racing stable and wife of a Chicago automobile dealer.

The automobile driven by Langdon and Mrs. Denemark collided at 175th street and Ridgeland avenue in the suburb.

Langdon died in St. James hospital. Doctors there described Mrs. Denemark's condition as "not serious."

Investigators Hear Testimony On McCarthy's Sharp Remarks

Nixon Predicts GOP Victory In November

CINCINNATI (P)—Vice President Richard Nixon predicted Wednesday a record-smashing Republican vote in November will elect a GOP Congress. And he said Democrats lost their only real campaign appeal when a depression failed to develop during the Eisenhower administration.

"The Democrats have no great and compelling issue," Nixon told a news conference. "The one big issue on which they relied has been pulled out from under them—and that was an economic depression or recession."

He foresaw a GOP vote in November equal to President Eisenhower's smashing 1952 vote total—with a "fall off" in the Democratic vote.

The youthful vice president came here to urge that GOP Senate and House candidates run under the Eisenhower banner, that they run "scared," and that they identify themselves with the need for a Republican Congress to carry out a "peace, progress and prosperity" program.

The Nixon theme in general was that Republican candidates have the best chance to win if they identify themselves with President Eisenhower and the Eisenhower program.

Hoover Regrets Loss Of Privacy While Fishing

FRASER, Colo. (P)—Former President Hoover declared somewhat sternly Wednesday that "one of the degenerations of the last 30 years" is that the President of the United States no longer has any privacy in a trout stream.

With President Eisenhower at his side, Hoover—the chief executive's guest at a secluded ranch here—addressed his remarks to a score or more newsmen who had been invited into the ranch by Eisenhower.

Hoover—smiling a bit but unmistakably serious—declared: "Thirty years ago we used to believe that there were only two occasions on which the American people had regard for the privacy of the president—when he was playing or fishing. And I now detect that you have lost the second part of that."

TVA Resists GOP Pressure To Join Atomic Commission

WASHINGTON (P)—The Tennessee Valley Authority is resisting temporarily at least—administration pressure to join the Atomic Energy Commission in a controversial private power contract ordered by President Eisenhower.

Harry A. Curtis, vice chairman of the TVA board, has described TVA's position in a letter to Rowland Hughes, Budget Bureau director. Curtis said the AEC has not revealed full details of the proposed contract to TVA and TVA is reluctant to enter into any negotiations without full knowledge.

Copies of the Curtis letter, which became available Wednesday, supported previous reports that TVA wants more information about the power contract before it becomes a party.

The proposal involves a contract which Eisenhower has directed AEC to negotiate with a private power combine known as the Dixon-Yates group for 600,000 kilowatts of power to be supplied by a 107-million-dollar steam plant to be built at West Memphis, Ark.

This power would be delivered to TVA at Memphis, Tenn., for distribution to consumers in the area. It would replace power which the TVA supplies to atomic plants. The proposal by the President is a substitute for TVA's plan to build a new steam plant near Memphis with funds which Congress has so far refused to appropriate.

GROUND F97 JETS

WASHINGTON (P)—The Navy said Wednesday that one series of the Cougar jet fighters, the F97, has been grounded until changes can be made on an engine fitting. A spokesman said the trouble appeared to be in a fuel nozzle support of the J33-A16 Allison engines used in this model of the Cougar.

Clear U. S. Mapmaker Of Being Security Risk

WASHINGTON (P)—The strange case of Abraham Chasanow—he said it was like "a bad dream"—ended happily Wednesday for the government mapmaker when the Navy cleared him of being a security risk. Chasanow's accusers were never identified publicly. Asst. Secretary James H. Smith, in ordering him restored to his job, said those who put the finger on him had committed a grave injustice and a disservice to the country.

Smith said the Navy would try to keep anything like it from happening again.

While Chasanow was accused of being a radical, and an associate of Communists and fellow travelers, a Navy loyalty board found instead that he was a patriotic and civic minded man, actively religious and esteemed in his community.

Chasanow, 44, his wife and their four children live in Greenbelt, Md., a suburban cooperative community, and he was earning $3,360 a year in his Navy job when he was suspended July 29, 1953.

A native of Philadelphia, he had been working for the Navy 23 years.

There was testimony that he had consorted with Communists, that he had contributed to the Spanish Loyalists Aid Committee and that reliable informants had named him as a radical.

All this Chasanow denied. He said that as a part time lawyer he had met some of the people whom he was said to have associated with, but contended it simply was not true that he was radical.

Last Oct. 9 a Navy hearing board agreed with Chasanow.

Nevertheless, he was suspended by Asst. Secretary Smith on the advice of the security appeals board. With legal help and publicity, Chasanow kept pressing his denials and obtained a new hearing.

The second hearing board, whose decision was upheld Wednesday, looked further into the case. It reported that his accusers "either failed to corroborate the original testimony or were unable to produce specifics of earlier allegations."

Unusual Orderliness, Speed Marks Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators completed taking evidence on three of the five censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) Wednesday, moving with a speed and orderliness previously unheard of in a proceeding of this kind.

With McCarthy away from the hearing room most of the time and sitting silent when he did attend, the six-member select committee moved to consider evidence on the remaining two charges Thursday. All indications pointed to a speedy windup of the 48-hour-old inquiry.

The committee called two witnesses, both newspapermen, and otherwise confined itself to reading documents of public record, in taking evidence on charges that:

1. McCarthy committed contempt of the Senate in failing to testify before a 1952 subcommittee which investigated his financial and other affairs. McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, argued that this count should be thrown out on the ground that the '52 committee was improperly set up and went beyond its authority. Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) refused, however, to strike out the contempt charge at this time.

2. McCarthy has ridiculed fellow senators in "vulgar, base language." The committee subpoenaed two Associated Press reporters who testified the senator did make remarks attributed to him about Sens. Flanders (R-Vt.) and Hendrickson (R-N.J.). McCarthy's lawyer indicated he would argue that the lawmakers attacked by McCarthy had said just as sharp things about the Wisconsin senator.

3. McCarthy "impugned the loyalty, patriotism and character" of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker.

Two pieces of evidence were submitted on this point. One was the transcript of a hearing at which McCarthy told the general he was unfit to command. The other was Zwicker's service record, showing decorations for combat heroism in World War II.

This left for the committee only two other groups of charges which it has winnowed from some 40 allegations submitted by Flanders, Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) in seeking a Senate vote of censure against McCarthy.

Bodies Of 193 U.S. War Dead Returned To Allies By Reds

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) (P)—The vanguard of another group of Allied warriors was on the way home Thursday from Communist soil. They are the fallen heroes who died and were buried in ground now under the Red Korean flag.

Eight Russian-built trucks delivered the bodies of 193 Americans and 7 soldiers of unknown nationality Wednesday to the Allies.

In turn, the U. N. Command handed over 500 Korean and 100 Chinese war dead.

The exchange took place in a peaceful green valley of the neutral zone south of Panmunjom, scene of the July 1953 armistice. The Reds deliver 200 war dead Thursday, including 151 Americans. The U. N. Command turns over 500 Koreans and 100 Chinese.

The Communists promised to return 4,011 Allied dead in the exchange, expected to last at least a month, and the U. N. Command will return 14,061 Communist dead.

Ike Signs Bill Liberalizing S.S. Benefits

FRASER, Colo. (P)—President Eisenhower Wednesday signed into law in a Rocky Mountain pine grove legislation extending social security coverage and liberalizing benefits. He called the measure "one of the cornerstones to build a better and stronger America."

Besides extending coverage to 10 million additional Americans and providing for greater benefits, the new law also increases payments into the social security fund on the part of both employees and employers.

In a prepared statement Eisenhower declared:

"I am very happy to sign the social security amendments of 1954. By enabling some 10 million more Americans to participate in the old age and survivors insurance program, it gives them an opportunity to establish a solid foundation of economic security for themselves and their families."

Under the new law, larger benefits for 6½ million persons now on the social security rolls will go into the mail in early October, just a month before the fall congressional elections.

Effective with their September check, all five million retired persons now on the rolls will get a minimum increase of $5 a month. The average payment to them is expected to go up to about $67 which is $6 more than they now receive.

Future benefits will go up considerably under new benefit formulas. For example, the maximum payment for an individual will be $108.50, as compared with $85 at present. For couples the new maximum is $162.75, up from $127.50.

To make the larger benefits possible, the salary tax base will climb from $3,600 to $4,200 a year, effective Jan. 1.

That means an individual earning $4,200 or more a year will have to pay $12 more in taxes starting next year. Employers will pay the same additional amount for each of their workers.

In the case of the self-employed earning at least $4,200 the tax hike will be $18.

The new compulsory coverage provisions bring under the program these additional persons: 3,600,000 farm operators, 2,100,000 farm hands, 100,000 engineers, architects, accountants and undertakers, and 80,000 in the fishing industry.

Death Watch Over Jap Fisherman Dusted In H-Bomb Test Stirs National Feeling

TOKYO (Thursday) (P)—Japanese, drawn closely together in their strongest national feeling since World War II, kept an agonized death watch Thursday over the bedside of a failing, unconscious fisherman.

The sick man was Aikichi Kuboyama, radio operator who was dusted with radioactive ash along with 22 other crewmen of the Lucky Dragon last March 1 when the United States set off a hydrogen explosion at Bikini atoll.

Kuboyama, racked with radiation sickness and jaundice, clung feebly to life in a deep coma.

His American and Japanese doctors have issued grave bulletins. And across Japan's four main islands the blackest headlines proclaimed: "Bikini Victim Near Death."

If Kuboyama dies, it is certain that U.S.-Japanese relations will sink to the lowest point since the Pacific war ended just nine years ago.

Nothing has shaken the Japanese like this since Emperor Hirohito told them they must lay down their arms and endure an occupation for the first time in 2,000 years of history.

At Kuboyama's bedside there are the specters of the tens of thousands of men, women and children who died in the atomic fires at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The official toll of these Pacific war bombings is listed as 162,034, but an American doctor and Japanese scientists have estimated that more than 300,000 persons died.

All the rancor, regret, bitterness and grief over the wartime atomic bombings has welled up into an almost hysterical national concern for the Bikini victims.

If Kuboyama dies, Japan will have an atomic martyr whose death cannot be blamed on the misfortunes of war.

This emotional storm has nullified almost all the good will gestures the United States had made in the Bikini case. To the Japanese, the fishermen are a symbol of all their atomic sufferings.

The Japanese expected a deep apology from the United States. When they did not get it, many accused the United States of insincerity. There was a noticeable chill in the newspapers.

It is difficult to say what steps the United States could take at this point.

Basically, the United States has not challenged seriously the Japanese claim that the Lucky Dragon was outside the proclaimed danger zones. U.S. Ambassador John Allison has committed the United States to pay compensation up to one-million dollars. Negotiations are in progress.

The United States also offered medical aid. American doctors, despite some hostility from Japanese medical men, have helped where they could.

Fleming Debunked Red Propaganda, Asked Better Food For Fellow POWs, Officer Says

FINDS SUPPORT—Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, left, shows newsmen at his court martial at Fort Sheridan, Ill., a letter he received from parents inquiring whether he knew anything of their son who is listed as missing from the Red POW camp he was held captive in during the Korean War. Fleming, identifying the parents only as Albuquerque, N. M., residents, is accused of collaborating with the Communists after he was captured in Korea. He said the parents expressed regret that he is being court-martialed. Fleming is the first Army officer to be court-martialed for cooperating with Reds in Korea.

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (P)—An Army warrant officer said Wednesday Lt. Col. Harry Fleming debunked Communist propaganda and demanded better food and medical attention for fellow prisoners in a North Korean POW camp.

C.W.O. Dwight E. Cox, Fresno, Calif., and other prosecution witnesses failed to corroborate Army charges during the third day of testimony before a general court-martial in Fleming's trial on charges of collaborating with the Communists.

The prosecution neared the end of its list of witnesses. Lt. Col. John R. Pritchard, trial counsel, said he would rest his case Thursday.

Cox said he had been told by Col. Fleming that everything the colonel did in prison camp was "for the purpose of saving lives and promoting the health of the men in camp."

"On several occasions I personally heard Fleming demand medical attention and better food for the men," Cox said.

The warrant officer said Fleming led discussion classes in the prison camp and read Communist texts but always made it clear that he was debunking the Red propaganda.

Fleming, 46, of Racine, Wis., faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, dismissal from the service and loss of all pay if convicted.

ARE MEN WAKING UP?

Now that another hot summer is drawing to a close, it seems entirely appropriate to note that the male of the species appears to have made some strides toward comfortable clothing.

The short sleeved sports shirt has definitely come into its own, even in offices. It is no longer a garment to be worn only on vacation or at home after business hours. Fewer and fewer are the men who cling to regular suits, wearing coats even when the temperatures are withering. A simple outfit of slacks and thin sports shirt seems to have become almost conventional.

Shorts, too, are becoming increasingly accepted, though it must be admitted that the knobby knees and hairy shanks of most men are not especially attractive. Bermuda style decrees the wearing of knee length stockings with long shorts, but why any man, seeking comfort and relief from the heat by wearing shorts, should want to put on long stockings is beyond our comprehension. Perhaps American men will some day have the good sense to accept Bermuda shorts in the summertime—without the long stockings.

FACE-LIFTING OPERATION

In the days of the famous gangster, Al Capone, the town of Cicero, Ill., was synonymous in the public mind with the worst evils of crime.

Comedians couldn't mention "gun" or "gangster" without trying to draw a laugh by adding "Cicero."

That was a good while ago, and yet the ugly label has stuck. To many people in the country, the dateline "Cicero" still seems to suggest violence.

Well, at long last, Cicero itself has grown tired of bearing this reputation, and has set out to get rid of it. A civic commission, backed by small contributions from nearly 70,000 persons in the town, has been formed to spread more accurate impressions of present-day Cicero.

We hope these people get the break they deserve. It will be interesting to see how this face-lifting operation comes out. It isn't easy in this life to correct first impressions, especially when they've lasted so long.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unless the Justice Department finds someone violated the law, the only casualty of the Army-McCarthy hearings may have been Roy M. Cohn. After the hearings he quit as chief counsel of Sen. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee.

Tuesday night the four Republicans and three Democrats on the subcommittee which conducted the hearings—on the fight between McCarthy and his staff on one side and Army officials on the other—made public their findings. They handed out various criticisms, most strongly against Cohn, but recommended action against no one.

Except for Cohn, all the principals in the case are still in their jobs and show every intention of keeping them, although one or more of them may have suffered some damage in public opinion of their integrity or ability.

Thus it might seem the sensational dispute which began explosively early this year and consumed so much time and money has dwindled off into a quiet end. That may not be true. The results of this case, if there are any, may show up later.

The Justice Department may find that someone violated the law by perjuring himself or that there was a law violation in the summary of a secret FBI report which McCarthy produced at the hearings with the explanation an Army officer supplied him with it.

It was in connection with the introduction of this document that McCarthy called on federal employees to provide him information on graft, corruption and communism even if the executive department had stamped the material secret. The overtones of that request may linger on.

While the four subcommittee Republicans in their majority report lapped McCarthy lightly on the wrist, the three Democrats took a sterner view.

Those three—McClellan of Arkansas, Symington of Missouri and Jackson of Washington—said "inexcusable actions" of McCarthy and Cohn "merit severe criticism."

The four Republicans were much milder in their criticism of McCarthy than they were of the two main Army figures in the dispute with the Republican Secretary of the Army, Secretary of the Army John G. Adams. The three Democrats blasted them too.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Claudette Colbert just let a million dollars slip away from her, and she couldn't be happier.

The French-born actress came within a hair's breadth of having her own television series.

"During the first few weeks, I worried myself sick for fear the show wouldn't be sold," she said. "And for the past three weeks, I was worried for fear it would be sold."

How did she get into this unique situation? It was easy. A couple of years ago, she turned down a number of offers for TV series. Then she went abroad to cash in on the 18-months tax deal.

When she returned, she wondered if she had made a mistake about the TV deals. Several other top stars had taken them and apparently prospered.

So she agreed to make a pilot film, a tender tale about a widow with a 15-year-old daughter. There were some good laughs in it, and a sponsor was soon attracted. The deal was visually set for the show to go on Saturday nights. But NBC minds intervened.

"They said it needed more comedy," Claudette explained. "They wanted me to fill the spot between Mickey Rooney and Imogene Coca, an hour and a half to compete with Jackie Gleason on CBS. I couldn't see myself in that position."

"I can do a pratfall whenever it's called for. But my kind of comedy is the brand I did in pictures like 'The Egg and I' and 'Family Honeymoon.' There has to be a reason for the slapstick; otherwise it just looks silly."

To the amazement of everyone concerned, Claudette backed out of the deal, thus passing up a fortune. When I saw her in her comfortable Hollywood Hills living room, she explained her decision.

"I just don't think there is enough good material to supply 39 shows a season," she said. "Once you get on the treadmill, you don't have time to work over the scripts and make them better. If you get one good one out of 10, you're lucky."

"Besides, I just can't see myself selling things. I can't stand there and say 'This hair wave is so good you can eat it.' I'm just not up to it."

"And I feel I still want to do movies. If I got tied up in a series, I wouldn't be able to."

Fatigue and Fever, Early Signs of This Rare Disease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

"I have recently been told," writes M. K., "that I have Lupus erythematosus. I do not know anything about this disease but have been told that I must keep out of the sun entirely. Would you please discuss it?"

This disease, which was formerly considered rather rare, may be increasing at any rate there seems to be a great deal of interest in it.

At times it appears to affect the skin alone and only a portion of the skin at that, but at others and too frequently it involves considerable parts of the body, and it must be considered as a generalized rather than as a skin disease.

The disease seems to involve certain tissues of the body which are the binding substances for the blood vessels. This tissue is called collagenous tissue. It has been studied a good deal in recent years but our knowledge of its functions and diseases is still far from clear.

Weakness, fatigue, and fever are common early signs of Lupus. Unlike many diseases accompanied by fever, there is a low white blood count, that is, smaller than average number of white blood cells in the blood. Pains in the joints are also common.

Although the skin symptoms have long been considered characteristic, they may be absent at the beginning of the disease and sometimes never appear at all.

Lupus Erythematosus is much more common in women than in men. It may start in children as young as six or eight years old. Its diagnosis has been simplified in recent years by an ingenious laboratory test.

The fever and joint pains are generally improved by using drugs like aspirin which contain salicylates.

Male hormones have been tried but have not been shown to have any definite effect on the course of the disease. The skin of patients with lupus erythematosus is frequently sensitive to light and usually has to be protected against sunlight. ACTH and cortisone have brought some good results.

Other kinds of treatment which have been tried include a well-balanced diet but restricted amounts of food. Adequate vitamins, particularly "B" and "C," have been recommended, but these do not appear to influence the underlying condition.

Lupus erythematosus is a serious problem. It is a disease which has been known for more than 80 years, but the cause has not yet been found nor has a thoroughly satisfactory treatment been devised.

Since many able research workers are studying it there is a hope that new methods to combat it may be developed in the next few years.

Wives Say Mates Need 'How-To-Hold-Your-Wife' Advice

There is plenty of evidence in the letters that come to this column that women the country over are getting fed to the teeth with advice on how to hold their husbands.

They claim this men read the advice out loud to them or Scotch tape it onto their dressing-table mirrors or just toss them the article with, "Here's something YOU ought to read."

Then, these same men, lean back in their easy chairs convinced that their wives are lucky to have them and that whatever is wrong with the marriage is the wife's fault.

Women who report that this is the way their husbands react to any and all "how-to-hold-your-man" advice, really fight in and let the men have it.

Their suggestions of what men could do to better husbands and help to make marriage happier for both partners would fill a book.

HERE'S SOME COMMON COMPLAINTS

But in spite of the variety of complaints there are several that crop up in letter after letter.

Here they are—and if this column gets taped up anywhere it will be on the mirror the man of the house uses to shave.

The men, say the women, have to be picked up after like two-year-olds. And in spite of their own sloppy habits they expect their houses to look neat and orderly.

They aren't considerate about letting their wives know when they are going to be late to dinner, and act as though the wife has no right to ask any questions regarding their lives away from home.

They spend evening after evening watching TV, never wanting to take their wives out, or even to talk to them at home.

They are extravagant about the money they spend for the things they want, but can never afford the things their wives consider important. According to a lot of wives the American husband could well profit by some "how-to-hold-your-wife" advice.

Vacation Calls—Ike and Cabinet Members Answer

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It didn't take the cabinet very long to hushball it out of town, once President Eisenhower had left for Denver. Some of them hit the vacation trail even before the head man.

The result is that if the Russians dropped a bomb on Washington now, the most they would hit would be an occasional under or assistant secretary, plus a lot of nonpolitical civil service holdovers from the Democratic administrations, who keep the wheels of government turning.

Vice President Nixon, groggy from almost a month of 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and midnight Senate sessions, got away at about the same time as the President. But the V. P. headed for Maine, to be with his family for ten days. Then he'll go to Cincinnati for a GOP strategy session, before starting on a campaign tour that will take him into 23 states—every place a Republican is running for senator.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is the Number One official in Washington when Eisenhower and Nixon are gone. The most vacation he can look forward to is maybe a weekend at his Duck Island retreat on the St. Lawrence. But even this isn't "firm," as they say in Bureau land. Secretary Dulles will leave Washington early in September for Manila, where he will try to whip up support for his southeast Asia Defense pact. And that ain't play.

THE TRIO IN HIGH COMMAND at the Treasury cleared out as soon as the tax reform and $6 billion national debt increase were in the bag. Secretary George M. Humphrey went to his farm, Holiday Hill, just outside Cleveland, Ohio. His office staff said they had no idea when he'd be back.

Undersecretaries Marion B. Folsom, the tax man, and W. Randolph Burgess, the debt man, were likewise missing. That left General Counsel Elbert P. Tuttle in charge of the gray granite Treasury building, but he is leaving soon to become a federal judge in Alabama. Assistant Secretary Andrew N. Overby is the only other little cabinet man around to count the money.

Over at the Pentagon, Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson got out of town before the President. He and Mrs. Wilson went to their home in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., to stay there until after Labor Day. Deputy Secretary Robert B. Anderson is in charge in his absence.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens took his vacation right after running the McCarthy gauntlet in the Senate hearings. He was gone a month—July 14 to Aug. 11. While he got in some work inspecting Army installations abroad, he has no plans for any other vacation now.

NAVY SECRETARY CHARLES S. THOMAS is fishing near Great Falls, Ida., and will also spend part of his vacation at his home in Los Angeles. While there, he'll also inspect the Navy's Air Missile Test Center in California.

Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott took a week's vacation at the end of July. He spent the "en" time at his home in South Hampton, L. I., visiting with his family and playing golf.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., got a week's vacation with his family earlier in the summer. Yes, they spent most of the afternoons and evenings going to ball games.

Postmaster General Arthur Sumnerfield is another cabinet member tied to his desk by work, with no vacation plans announced as yet.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks is spending a couple of other weeks at his Lancaster, N. H., farm.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE EZRA TAFT BENSON knocked off regular work as soon as the farm bill was passed. He is trying to take a vacation at his Washington home without too many people knowing about it. He wants to build up strength for a major speaking tour through the midwest states fall.

After his business trip to Alaska, Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay stopped off at his Oregon summer home for a vacation with his family.

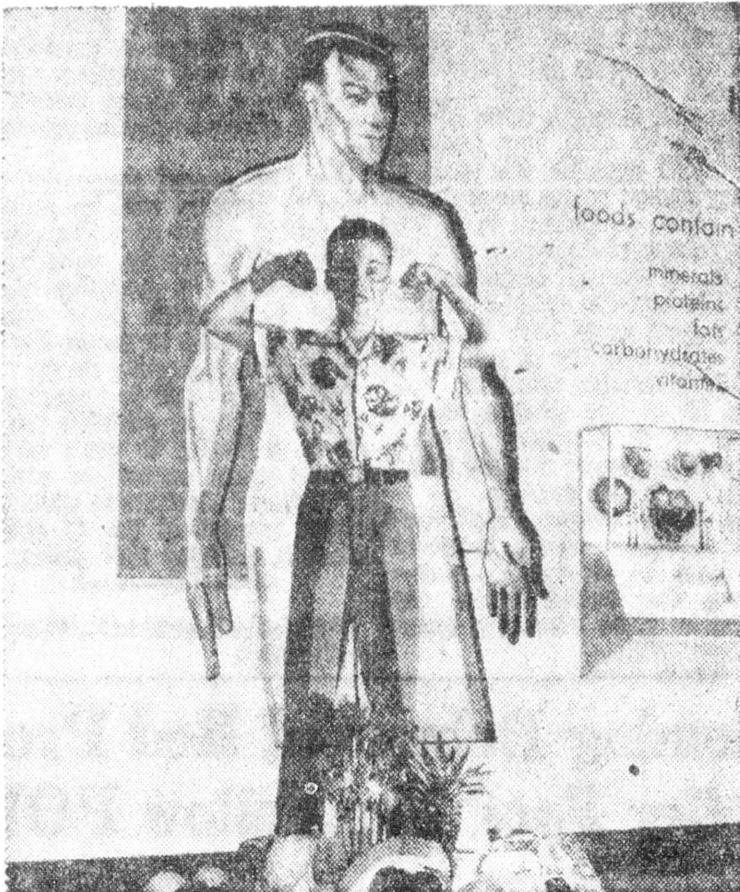

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell beat everyone to the punch by taking an early vacation with his family at their Spring Lake, N. J., home. Secretary Mitchell is back on the job now.

Last but not least, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby isn't planning any vacation and didn't take one last year. She says her one-day outing with the cabinet at President Eisenhower's Camp David retreat is the only vacation she'll get this year. Which proves, if anything, that woman's work is never done.

Chicago's 'Food For Life'

Exhibit Tells All About Food

TEN-YEAR-OLD Dick Willets, Jr., checks his growth against "the nutritional man" at Chicago's "Food for Life" exhibit.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Right eating means better health, less sickness, prompt recovery from injury, more vigor, happiness and ability to enjoy longer active life.

And it's never too late to start learning how to eat for a better life.

The "Food for Life" exhibit, recently opened at Chicago's handsome Museum of Science and Industry on Lake Michigan, tells the graphic story of all man knows about food and how it contributes to growth and well-being.

Using live baby pigs, chickens that hatch before your eyes, fluffy yellow ducklings, and sheep as white as Mary's little lamb, it makes clear to children and adults alike the vital role of right eating.

There are also electronic displays which fascinate youngsters teaching them the part the seven basic foods play in their growth, mental alertness, and ability to play hard and win in the battle of life.

We went about the exhibit with 10-year-old Dick Willets, Jr. He explained the giant-size "nutritional man" working the electric buttons that demonstrate how minerals, proteins, fat, carbohydrates and vitamins build a man's body and keep it working.

He thinks the exhibit is "pretty super" and he likes to visit it often and takes other fellows with him. "Mostly eleven kids who don't know how to eat good."

This remarkably interesting "Food

Teenager Waits 2 Years To Get $550 He Found

CHICAGO (P)—John Vondras (1) found $550, and (2) put the money in his pocket.

But it wasn't as fast or as simple as that.

The first and second steps were separated by two years, three weeks and three days.

Young Vondras—14—found the cash on a North Side sidewalk Aug. 8, 1952. He turned it over to the police.

The police kept the money for a year, and then John learned of a law that required him to obtain a court order before the currency could be placed in his hands.

He was told, too, that he could obtain the court order early if he advertised the find and nobody claimed the money in the ensuing year.

He ran the ad and nobody came forward to get the cash.

And today the lad went to the county clerk's office and picked up the money.

But he had to wait an extra hour so the captain of the North Side police district where it was found could sign a release.

Whitaker Goes To Death For Slaying Girl He Courted

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (P)—His bravado gone, a dejected Walter E. Whitaker Jr. went to his death today at 12:06 a. m. in the Texas prison system's electric chair.

Whitaker was convicted and sentenced to death for the 1953 slaying of Joyce Fern White, 18, Lubbock, Tex., high school senior he courted while he was an Air Force cadet in her home town.

Joyce Fern's body was found in a shallow grave on the prairie west of Lubbock two weeks after she disappeared from the kitchen of her widowed mother's home.

Whitaker, during the long search for the girl, offered his aid and visited her grieving relatives to offer sympathy.

He was arrested after transfer from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock but stubbornly denied any connection with the girl's disappearance. Then suddenly he decided to lead officers to Joyce Fern's garreted body. To the last, he denied remembering actually killing his sweetheart.

At his trial in Lubbock, there was testimony that Whitaker drove a borrowed automobile down an alley to the rear of the White home. Joyce Fern was washing her hair in the kitchen, testimony said, but left hurriedly when the cadet went to Clovis, N. M., to be married.

She was never seen alive again. "I want to thank everybody who has helped me in any way," said the 23-year-old Whitaker as he was being strapped into the electric chair.

He hesitated and added: "Well, I guess that's about it."

Whitaker testified at his trial that when he told Joyce he was being transferred to San Antonio, she begged him to marry her. When he refused, he told the jury, she told him she was pregnant.

He testified he then agreed to take her to Clovis, N. M., and marry her. But on the way, he said, she told him she was not pregnant. A quarrel followed.

Whitaker said they slapped each other and his mind went blank. He said he came to and found his sweetheart strangled to death with a cotton cord around her neck. He buried her in the prairie, he said, and then lost all memory of the event.

CHA DISMISSES EX-STAFF HEAD

CHICAGO (P)—Miss Elizabeth Wood, executive secretary of the Chicago Housing Authority, was dismissed Tuesday, climaxing a long dispute with the commissioners of the city's public housing projects.

The CHA last week named Lt. Gen. William B. Kean as executive director, demoting Miss Wood, who has directed the housing authority as chief staff officer since it was created in 1937.

Commissioners said she had "publicly expressed dissatisfaction" over Kean's appointment. They voted her one year's severance pay of approximately $15,000.

LOCAL PHOTOGRAPHER WINS CERTIFICATE

Bill Wade, Jacksonville photographer, Monday was awarded a certificate of merit by the Photographers' Association of America at its 63rd annual convention and trade show being held this week at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

A certificate of merit is awarded to a photographer when his picture is selected to hang at the convention by a jury of famed professional photographers. At this year's convention, only 750 out of 5,000 photographs submitted passed the rigid standards of quality and techniques required of an award-winning photograph.

Robert M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarendon Smith, 503 East College, was elected Master Councilor of the DeMolay Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at the semi-annual election of officers held Tuesday evening, Aug. 24 at the Masonic Temple.

He succeeds Ronald L. Russell as the executive officer of the DeMolay Chapter.

Smith graduated from Jacksonville high school with the class of 1954 and will attend Illinois College this fall. He is active in Boy Scout work, youth work at Grace Methodist church and was very active in all phases of high school work.

He has served the local DeMolays in many posts of responsibility and served as district officer last year.

Russell L. Six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Six, 709 Sheridan, was re-elected treasurer for his second year.

The officers-elect have appointed Donald L. Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rane Maxwell, 28 Sunset Drive, as senior deacon.

The elected officers will meet with the advisors soon and appoint the remaining officers and formulate plans for the public installation to be held in September. The appointed officers and those elected will be in office at the next chapter meeting, Advanced Officers' Night, on Sept. 14.

All members were urged to attend the installation of officers of the chapter.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (P)—The nine-member choir of the Irredell Prison Camp sang at the Mt. Sinai Church of God near here.

After the service the congregation was host to the choir at a chicken dinner.

Chicago Teacher Admits That He Is Ex-Convict

CHICAGO (P)—A Chicago public school teacher, through his lawyer, acknowledged Tuesday that he is an ex-convict and State's Atty. John Gutknecht said authorities had the proof without the admission.

Lawrence B. Jackson's attorney, Charles Bellows, made a public admission Tuesday that Jackson, for 22 years a teacher in Chicago, had a criminal past. Jackson, who has been suspended, first denied it although his fingerprints matched those of a former convict.

Bellows said Jackson had retained him to defend the teacher on involuntary manslaughter charges in connection with his ownership of a tenement building in which seven persons died in a fire June 11.

When Gutknecht learned of Jackson's admission through Bellows he said "We are in position to state that, despite his denial, Lawrence Jackson is the same man whose fingerprints were in the police files here, in Wisconsin and Ohio."

"Evidently the denial was a frantic, foolish effort to deny the inescapable fact because of his family," Gutknecht added.

Gutknecht said Jackson's case before the grand jury will be considered next week.

WHY DO YOU PREFER BLUE BONNET?

Mrs. Seixas travels widely accompanying her husband, the tennis star, to national and international tournaments.

"I serve BLUE BONNET Margarine at our home table because nowhere do I find aspread with such uniformly sunny-sweet flavor, spreading smoothness and high food value. Unlike most other margarines, BLUE BONNET contains both vitamins A and D. It is truly first, in my opinion, for Flavor, Nutrition, Economy!"

THE ENDLESS EASE

he likes hard work... as long as he does it easily!

The ENDLESS EASE is an advertising man who likes an ad program that "runs itself" — no matter what direction it runs in.

He won't climb a sales peak... rather flow down hill.

He won't make a quick move... rather take a slow loss.

Fortunately he's a rare creature — almost extinct in today's tough market.

Most ad men today are probing deep. They're carefully weighing one market against the other — for product sales possibilities... for competitive opportunities. And they're finding sales plums they never knew existed.

And they're concentrating their advertising locally in the markets that show the most promise.

Naturally they're turning to newspapers to cover those markets fast and fully. Because just about all the people in each market read the newspaper every day.

Retailers know this, too. That's why they feature so strongly the products of manufacturers who advertise in the local newspaper.

It's a partnership that moves merchandise in volume — and in a hurry! That's why national advertisers upped their investment in newspapers 14.3% last year!

All business is local... and so are all newspapers!

William J. Damhorst presents SONOTONE

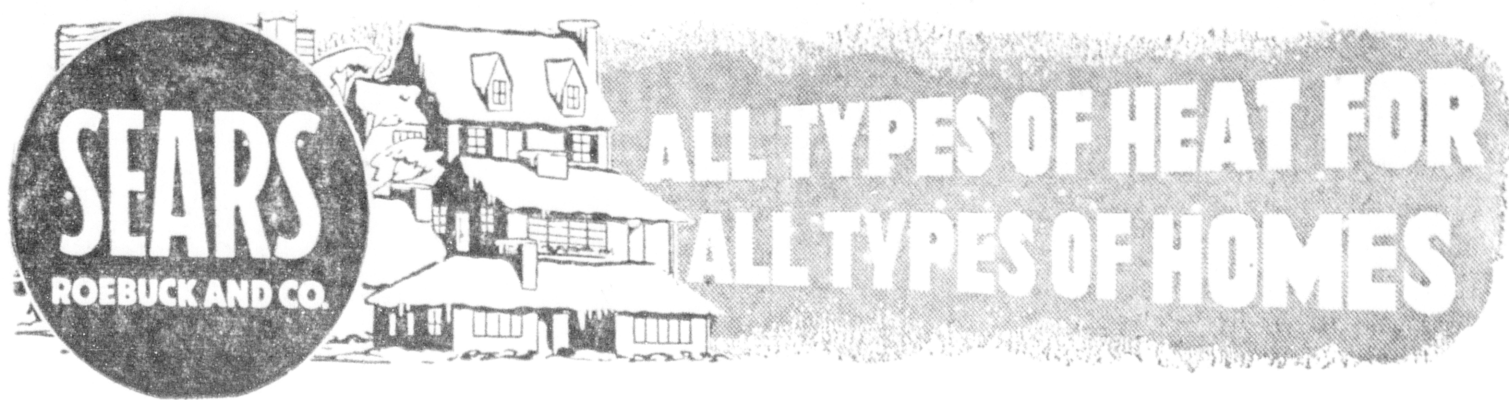

Robert Beard, employed at Jacksonville Journal Courier Printing department, was the fortunate winner of a Sonotone hearing aid awarded at the recent Illinois State Fair by William J. Damhorst, manager of Sonotone of Springfield office.

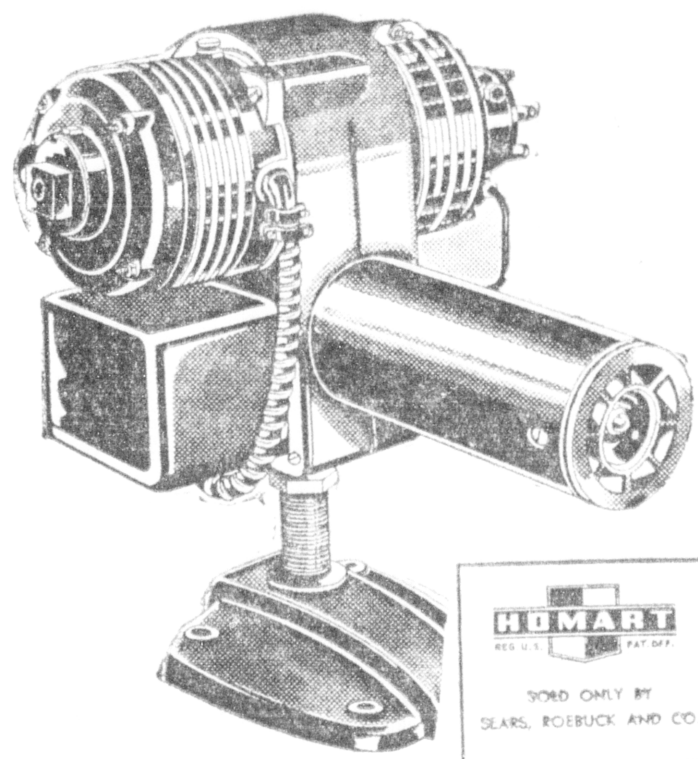

Robert lost his hearing as a result of scarlet fever when he was five. All of the physical and social problems of the hard of hearing were his until 15 years old when he secured his first hearing aid and was able to continue through high school.

Shown in the photo are Mr. Damhorst making the presentation to Mr. Beard and also present Mrs. Beard and their two children, Linda Sue and James Ralph.

Robert stated: "I am very grateful to Sonotone and to Mr. Damhorst who have enabled me to live a normal full life, making my employment easier and being able to enjoy my social and family life to the fullest. The local service which has been available in Jacksonville for so many years has always been my assurance that I could always get service for my Sonotone hearing needs."

Local Fans Designate Tuesday, September 7 As Jerry Barber Day

Country Club Golf News

Mrs. James L. Bunch won the Bankers Handicap at the Jacksonville Country Club yesterday. She fired a 46-1-342 to top first place honors. Mrs. Ford Jackson came in second with a 50-24-35 and Mrs. William Selden was third with 47-10-37.

A low net tourney is in store for the ladies next Wednesday.

Lewis Hoag Leads Favorites In Net Championships

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP) — Australia's Lewis Hoag led favorites from three continents into the fourth round of the National Tennis Championships Wednesday.

Head-to-head among foreign entrants, crushed Andres Hammersley, a nervous Chilean 6-0, 6-1, 8-6, and looked every inch a champion in doing it.

Other favorites, including American's Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson and Tom Brown, Jr. and South Africa's Owen Williams—also advanced a round ahead of the field but none showed the awesome power and finesse of the Davis Cup ace from Australia.

Serving powerfully and driving to the net at every opportunity, he whipped through the first two sets in less than 30 minutes. In the third set he relaxed, lost his service for the only time in the eighth game and had to battle to end the match.

Iowa Tons Big 10 Ticket Demands

CHICAGO (AP)—With season book sales up 250 per cent and over-all sales up 200 per cent, Iowa Wednesday topped a pre-season survey of football ticket demands in the Big Ten.

Iowa's leadership probably can be traced to predictions of an excellent 1954 season under Coach Forest Brasherski that could make the Hawkeyes a strong title contender.

Illinois reports season sales up 85 per cent. Ohio State, Michigan State, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan report sales about the same or up as much as 5 per cent.

Northwestern and Purdue are off slightly. Indiana is down about 6 per cent.

Ennis' Grand Slam Beat Cardinals 5-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Del Ennis' bases-loaded home run in the first inning was too much for the St. Louis Cardinals to overcome Wednesday night and the Philadelphia Phils took a 5-2 victory which pulled them into fifth place in the National League race.

Ennis' grand-slam smash, his 23rd broker of the season, came off Hooks Lawrence after the St. Louis starter had loaded the bases with three walks, one intentional—that one to Granny Hamner who batted just ahead of Ennis.

Sending St. Louis down to its fourth straight defeat and eighth in the last 10 starts, veteran lefty Murry Dickson checked the Cardinals on seven hits for his ninth victory. He has lost 16 while Lawrence now has an 11-6 record.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

Illinois College coach Al Miller has invited 38 players to attend the opening workout at the IC field Monday, September 13. Included in this list are 10 returning lettermen. Jim Adduci will be back at a tackle along with sophomore Gary Curtis. Guard Don Hazelrigg will be on hand for opening drills as will end Jim Frame and tackle - end Bill Hoxley.

George Riley, last year's quarterback, will be back and will probably see service in the line at a guard spot. Other returning lettermen include Dick Barnes, Roy Hess and Jim Ridings. Ridings was the fullback until a leg injury forced him out of the lineup. He is expected to be in A-number-one shape this year.

Dick Capatosto, a senior, will be available for backfield duty. Bob Winstead, a local boy who attended Western, has enrolled and Coach Al plans to pick his quarterback from one of these two candidates.

Bob Scott, one of the best halfbacks in this part of the state last year, will be among the newcomers to the Blueboys squad. Fred Goodey, who played fullback for Kraushaar two years ago, also will report to Coach Miller.

Other boys from this area who will be freshmen at the local college are Dean Duckwiler and Don Hobrock. A couple boys from the 3-C eight-man Conference.

The Illinois College schedule shows three conference games as the Blueboys enter the Prairie Conference after two years of "independent" ball. Only four teams in the new conference have football. Eureka, Princeton and Rose Poly along with IC form the football end of the league.

Home games for IC include Eureka on October 2 at 8 p.m. William Penn will be the homecoming guest on October 16 at 2 p.m. Culver Stockton on the 30th in a night game and Central College of Missouri will be here on November 6 at 8 p.m. The Blueboys travel to Peincipia on October 9 and Rose Poly on the 23rd. The final game of the season will be at Carthage on November 12.

Miller announced two practice sessions will be held each day for the first week. He also indicated night classes will be held for "chalk talks."

Spain Wins 9th Straight: Braves Nip Pirates 3-1

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Veteran southpaw Warren Spahn won his ninth straight game Wednesday night as the Milwaukee Braves defeated tailend Pittsburgh, 3-1, before 40,494 fans at County Stadium.

The lean lefthander, who set the Pirates down with six hits, lost his bid for the 34th shutout of his career in the eighth when Eddie Pellicker lashed a pinch liner back at the mound. Spahn, stabbed at the ball, fell down and Jack Sheppard scored from third.

The Braves got only seven hits off ex-teammate Max Surkont, scoring once in the first on three straight singles and twice more in the sixth on a two-base error by Curt Roberts, a sacrifice, Andy Pafko's single and a wild pitch by Surkont.

Eliot Shuffles Lineup As Illini Drills Start

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Position shuffling was in order Wednesday as Ray Eliot opened his 13th season as head football coach at the University of Illinois.

Only four regulars are back from the 1953 Big 10 Conference co-championship team — halfback J.C. Caroline; Mickey Bates, being shifted from halfback to fullback; and guards Jan Smid and Bucky Tate.

Tate, delayed by summer Marine training, will not report until Saturday. Percy Oliver, 200-pound sophomore from Miami, Fla., was installed at right tackle. Floyd Afee, a junior expected to hold down the post, is bothered by an ailing back.

Another change found Steve Nosek shifted from No. 2 left end to No. 1 right end. Nosek is the only returning letterman at end.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Sixty candidates turned out Wednesday for Northwestern University's opening drill, and Coach Bob Voigts said he was highly pleased with their physical condition.

The only absentee was Ziggle Niepokol, a first string end who is in summer training at a Marine camp. He is expected to join the Wildcats Monday.

Most of Wednesday's working time was devoted to fundamental blocking and tackling. Four 11's participated in a lengthy signal drill.

Voigts scheduled the squad's first scrimmage for Saturday.

'GRAB THAT BALL'

The Routt team has been going through two practice sessions this week as Coach Smarjesse prepares his boys for the tough 3-C Conference schedule.

Groth Bats White Sox To 6-3 Win After Bosox Win Opener 7-2

BOSTON (AP)—Johnny Groth led a two-run homer and his bases-loaded walk added a third run Wednesday night as the Chicago White Sox defeated Boston, 6-3, for a split in their day-night doubleheader. The Red Sox won the afternoon contest 7-2.

Hurd allowed only two men to reach base over the last 4 1-3 innings to gain his first major league victory. Jim Rivera singled off Hurd in the sixth but was erased trying to stretch it into a double. Nellie Fox sought to open the eighth but was cut down on a force play.

Boston got 12 hits and seven walks off three White Sox hurlers. The Red Sox built up a 6-0 lead over the first four innings before Chicago scored a pair in the fifth on starter Russ Kemmerer's balk and a passed ball.

Boston took advantage of wildness by the White Sox' stylish lefthander, Billy Pierce, to score twice in the first. Pierce gave up three walks in the second before he gave way to rookie Dick Strahs, who temporarily escaped difficulty.

Unheralded Boxers On TV Instead Of Gavilan Fight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Boxing fans across the nation and their customary Wednesday night fight on television but it was a quartet of unheralded boxers instead of the famed Kid Gavilan in a welterweight title defense against Johnny Saxton.

Gavilan came up with the mumps on the eve of his eighth title defense and was forced to take to his bed. The 16-round, scheduled Wednesday night for the outdoor Connie Mack Stadium was called off and postponed until sometime in October for the indoor Convention Hall.

Instead, the International Boxing Club will televise two six-rounders, featherweight Ike Chestnut against George Justine and Elwood Davis, both of Philadelphia at the Met, a small local indoor arena.

There was no admission charge at the Met. Promoter Herman Taylor said the new bouts were arranged "in order to keep faith with the fans."

White Sox Recall Third Baseman

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Joe Kierrene, hard-hitting Colorado Springs Sky Sox third baseman, was recalled by the Chicago White Sox Wednesday and will join the American League club in Chicago Thursday in time for the Cleveland series.

Kierrene was leading the Western League in hitting with a .343 batting average.

He will fill in for the injured Cass Michaels who was hit on the head by a pitched ball last week. Only in event of such an emergency can a major league club draw from its minor league strength.

Russia Sending 100 Athletes To '36 Olympics

By STERLING SLAPPEY

BERN (AP) — Gabriel Kozobkoff, coach of the Soviet track and field team at the European Games, said Wednesday Russia would send 40 athletes to the 1936 Olympic Games at Melbourne.

Kozobkoff said Russia would compete in every Olympic event, which is believed to be the most massive national effort for Olympic honors since the beginning of the modern games.

The United States has organized Olympic teams approximating this size, but has not competed in all sports.

Kozobkoff's flat assertion that Russia would compete at Melbourne is at variance with what Avery Brundage, International Olympic president, was told in Moscow by Nicolai Romanov, Russian sports head. Romanov declined to commit himself on the 1936 games. Russia and Australia have broken off diplomatic relations.

"We do not consider Melbourne a very good place to hold the Olympic Games," Kozobkoff said. "It is too far away for countries in the Northern Hemisphere and the long journey will be a hardship for the teams of small countries."

"However, the decision is taken, and we will make the best of it," Russian athletes won 16 of the 34 gold medals at the European Games, but appeared weak in the sprints and the 800-meter races.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Yankees Cut Tribe's Lead To 4½ With 4-1 Win; Berra Bat Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra pumped new life into New York's American League pennant hopes Wednesday, pounding out a home run and two singles to pace the Yankees to a 4-1 "must" victory over Cleveland that shaved the league-leading Indians' margin to 4½ games.

The slugging catcher proved an ideal batterymate for pitcher Ed Lopat who turned in one of his best performances of the year in snapping Cleveland's five-game winning streak with a well-paced nine-hitter.

It was Berra's single that started a two-run rally in the fourth inning after Cleveland had taken a 1-0 lead and it was his home run with Mickey Mantle on base in the sixth that led the game for the Yankees.

Lopat was superb in the sixth and seventh innings when five Indians reached base but none scored.

The Tribe filled the bases with nobody out in the fifth, but the 36-year-old lefthander proceeded to strike out Larry Doby, retire Al Rosen on an infield popup and dispose of Vic Wertz on an infield grounder.

Dave Philley and pinch hitter Hank Majeski slashed successive singles to open the sixth but again Lopat rose to the occasion, retiring the next three batters.

Mike Garcia began for Cleveland and permitted only six hits. But five of them came in the two scoring innings.

In contrast, only one of the nine hits off Lopat figured in Cleveland's scoring. That was in the third inning when Jim Hegan opened with a triple and crossed the plate on Garcia's towering sacrifice fly.

Cleveland has 22 games left to play to New York's 23.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (U. S. government bonds developed moderate demand in an otherwise quiet and irregular bond market Wednesday.

Dealers of treasury bonds said uncertainties in markets for corporate securities prompted the modest buying of government issues.

Meanwhile, on the "Big Board," volume slipped to $2,860,000 par value from $3,900,000 Tuesday as the corporate list attempted to recover from Tuesday's decline and only managed to end narrowly mixed.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (U. S. stock market came back in a recovery move Wednesday to retrace a good portion of Tuesday's break.

The upward movement was a moderate affair on low volume, although a great many issues participated in the rise.

Gains of major fractions to around two points were dotted throughout the list. Losses usually were small and widely scattered.

All major divisions had a hand in the recovery, principally the railroads, steels, motors and railroads.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 90 cents at $129.80. It dropped $2.00 Tuesday.

The industrial component of the average gained $1.20, railroads were up 80 cents, while the utilities were down 30 cents.

Volume came to only 1,790,000 shares. That compares with 2,640,000 shares traded during Tuesday's sharp fall.

Trading was light on the American Stock Exchange at 490,000 shares. That compares with 600,000 shares traded Tuesday.

Prices were generally higher.

RYE HITS PEAK, WHEAT MARKET RISES

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (U. S. — A sharp spurt in rye to new seasonal peaks and a strong market in wheat featured dealings in grains on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

Rye ended 4 to 5 1/2 cents higher while wheat was ahead 2 1/2 to 3 cents. March, May and July wheat set new seasonal peaks. All contracts of both cereals with the single exception of May wheat, ended at the day's top price.

Elsewhere, the market was mostly firm, although September corn weakened in line with easier prices in the cash market. Corn finished 1 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, oats 1 1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2 to 2 cents higher and lamb 2 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Reports that wheat which still has to be harvested in North Dakota had deteriorated in quality apparently brought some of the buying into wheat. The Minneapolis market was the first to show strength. Chicago following the lead of the Northwest market.

Canada's rye crop this year will be down substantially from 1953. The last official estimate was for 18,178,000 bushels compared with 28,775,000 bushels a year ago and there probably has been additional deterioration since that report, traders felt.

Trading in corn, oats and soybeans was without much feature.

Unusual Orderliness, Speed Marks Inquiry

One remaining charge is based on McCarthy's call, during the hearings on his row with Army officials, for government employees to give him evidence of subversion or other wrongdoing even if they disregard security regulations in doing so.

The other charge, closely related, involves McCarthy's alleged receipt of use of confidential information or classified documents or other confidential information from executive files.

Both charges stem from McCarthy's production, at the Army hearings, of a 2 1/2 page memo which turned out to be a summary of a confidential FBI document on a search for possible espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. Watkins said as the hearings recessed Wednesday that the committee would make use of the Army-McCarthy hearings transcript.

The committee planned to recess the current hearings at the end of Thursday's session and resume them on Friday.

The Wisconsin senator tried at the beginning of Wednesday's session to get a clear statement from the vice chairman of the committee, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), on whether Johnson did or did not say recently that every Democratic Senate leader loathes McCarthy.

Johnson stuck to the statement he made Tuesday—that he never expressed any personal loathing for McCarthy, and that he can sit as a judge in the present case without bias. Watkins said he would take the Colorado senator at his word, adding that the committee has no power to remove any of its members in any case.

The final censure charge taken up Wednesday was the Zwicker affair, growing out of the senator's questioning of the general—then commander of Camp Kilmer, N.J.—about the honorable discharge granted to Maj. Irving Peress, a dentist who refused to tell the McCarthy subcommittee whether he engaged in Communist activities.

Zwicker on that occasion declined to discuss some details of the Peress discharge on the ground that a Presidential order forbade disclosure of such information. McCarthy in the ensuing argument suggested Zwicker was protecting those who protect Communists.

A good deal of the morning session was devoted to the question whether McCarthy committed contempt of the Senate by failing to testify before the 1952 investigating subcommittee.

Williams argued McCarthy would not have been in contempt of that group—made up of Sens. Hennings (D-Mo.), Hayden (D-Ariz.) and Hendrickson—because the committee itself wasn't properly set up and "was acting outside the scope of its authority from the first day."

Watkins let the contempt charge stand. He then began hearing evidence on charges that McCarthy ridiculed Senate colleagues.

B. L. Livingstone of the Associated Press testified he heard McCarthy say last June 11, during a noon-hour recess of the McCarthy-Army hearings, that somebody should "get a man with a net" and take Flanders (R-Vt.) "to a good quiet place."

Quicker is one of the three senators who have brought the current charges against McCarthy.

The other witness, Joe Hall, also of The Associated Press, testified he took down a Jan. 2, 1953, statement in which McCarthy described Hendrickson as "a living miracle."

... the only man in the world who has lived so long with neither brains nor guts."

Hall said McCarthy was talking about the report of the 1952 Hennings-Hayden-Hendrickson subcommittee which raised a number of questions about McCarthy's conduct.

Williams cross-examined both newsmen briefly to bring out, he said, the context in which McCarthy's remarks were made. His apparent purpose was to lay the groundwork for showing that the senator hasn't talked any worse against his colleagues than some of them have talked against him.

McCarthy's lawyer did not dispute that McCarthy made the statements.

A.F.L. Agents Plead Innocent To Charge Of Racketeering

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U. S. — Business agents of A.F.L. unions in Springfield and Quincy pleaded innocent Wednesday to indictments on labor racketeering charges.

Trial for Edwin H. Snyder of Teamsters Local 80 at Quincy and Edward J. Pavlat of Teamsters Local 15 at Galesburg was set for Oct. 6. Defense and federal attorneys estimated trial would take from three to five days.

By agreement, trial will be without jury before U. S. Judge Charles G. Briggie who took under advisement a defense motion for a bill of particulars. U. S. attorney John Stoddard Jr. objected to the bill on the ground it was "merely seeking our evidence in advance."

Pavlat and Snyder were accused in July, along with Guy Harmon of Peoria and William R. Watkins of Jacksonville, of violating the Federal Anti-Racketeering Act by forcing payoffs by the J. L. Cox and Sons Pipe Stringing Co. under threats of work stoppages, unlawful strikes and slowdowns. Harmon and Watkins pleaded innocent.

MISS WYATT COMPLETES 18 YEARS SERVICE

A reception Friday afternoon, August 27, honored Miss Minnie Wyatt who has completed 18 years service at the Passavant hospital, and introduced Miss Wilma Nichols the new medical records librarian. The reception was in the Solumar at the hospital and attended by many hospital personnel and friends. Mrs. Ralph Hutchison, niece of Miss Wyatt, presided at the punch bowl.

The top picture shows Miss Wyatt, left, being served punch from the attractive table by Mrs. Hutchison. The lower picture shows Harry Hanamit, member of the hospital board, left, and Ralph Berseld, hospital administrator, greeting Miss Nichols at the reception.

Miss Wyatt, who lives at 327 South Diamond street, completes 18 years association with Passavant. She helped prepare the annual report of the hospital in December of 1935 and the following January became admissions officer at the hospital. She held this position until 1942 when she became record librarian. Prior to that period she was secretary for the late Dr. David Reid. Miss Wyatt continues her association with the hospital as part-time assistant to Miss Nichols who is also assisted with two full time helpers.

Fully Qualified
Miss Nichols began her new duties Aug. 23, as medical librarian at the new Passavant Memorial Area hospital. She is a registered record librarian having held that position at St. Anthony's hospital in Rock Island for eight and one-half years.

She worked for her bachelor of oratory degree at Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., and received her bachelor of arts degree at Marycrest College in Davenport, Iowa, where she majored in social sciences.

Miss Nichols came into her present profession quite by chance. The chance involved by which she made her choice of work are most interesting and encourages to anyone with a physical handicap. She was working as a receptionist at her father, Dr. J. H. Nichols, (a Rock Island dentist for 43 years) when she read an article, "Man Salvage Clinic," published in the Readers Digest. The story, written by a Connecticut man, told of the fields open to handicapped persons and struck a responsive chord in Miss Nichols. She wrote to the magazine expressing her interest and in reply received the suggestion she contact the author. The author recommended the work being accomplished by the Department for Crippled Children of Chicago Medical Clinic. Since Miss Nichols was already employed she told a friend, born with only one arm, about the recommendation. During the course of the subsequent interview Miss Nichols' friend told her interviewers of Miss Nichols which included her background and education. The interviewers phoned the Rock Island woman and offered her the position of private secretary to a clinic director which she accepted and where she stayed until going to St. Anthony's hospital.

She is active in church work and taught a class of 40 young people in Rock Island for a number of years. She is also interested in state librarian work and attends week-long institutes where she learns of new drugs, surgery, procedures and medical processes. She is a member of the Business and Professional Woman's club and has an apartment at 807 South Main street. Miss Nichols is a member of the Christian church in Rock Island and attends the Central Christian church in this city.

Lineman Touches Live Wire, Suffers Shoulder Burns

James Rush, lineman for the City Light Department, received painful burns Wednesday morning when he came into contact with a 2300 volt wire while working on a pole in Alley D near East College avenue. He was taken to Our Saviour's hospital where his condition was reported as not serious.

Rush and other linemen were making repairs on the lines. Rush was wearing leather gloves and had on his safety belt. In leaning to reach a wire his shoulder came in contact with a bare wire carrying 2300 volts. Rush was knocked unconscious for a few seconds.

Other linemen went to his rescue planning to give him "pole top" resuscitation, but when they reached the top of the pole Rush had revived and was able to climb to the ground.

He was rushed to the hospital where examination showed he had suffered burns to his right hand and right shoulder.

Rush will probably be hospitalized for a couple of days.

Honor Roodhouse Pastor, Family With Open House

ROODHOUSE—Over 200 members and friends of the Church of Christ braved the heat Sunday afternoon to attend the open house held as a farewell honor to Rev. Williams and his family who are moving to Columbia, Mo. The Williams have resided here for 14 years while he has served as pastor of the local church.

During the afternoon, Lloyd Coffman, in behalf of the members and friends, presented Rev. Williams and family with a purse gift. Rev. Williams and wife responded with talks telling of their future plans and thanking their friends for their love and gift.

The Williams twins, Vivian and Vincent, who are ready to enter the senior year in high school, responded with a vocal number with Vivian accompanying herself and her brother at the piano.

Punch, cake, nuts and mints were served from a beautifully appointed table presided over by a committee of church women who were assisted by young girls.

Centering the refreshment table were flowers sent by the local florist, Homer Rimbey and wife, for the occasion. On each small paper napkin used was printed in gold "Rev. and Mrs. Williams 1940-1954."

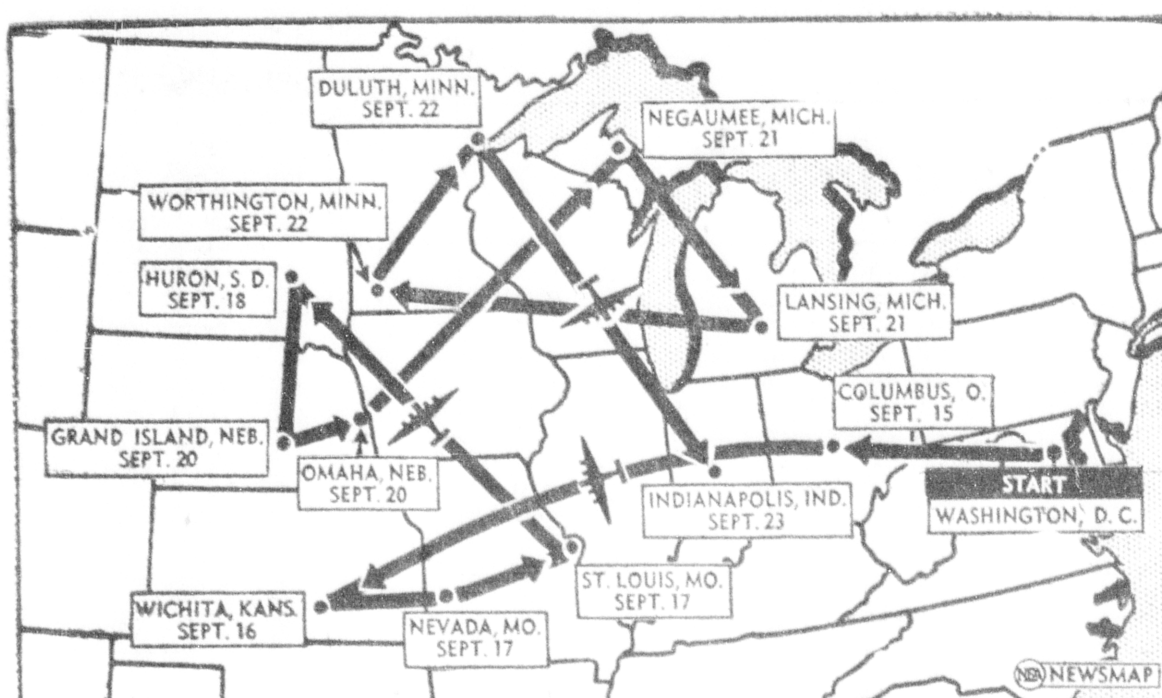

Arrangements for the farewell were in charge of Mrs. Navaltee Eby, teacher of the Dorcas class, and her committee. In the receiving line with Rev. and Mrs. Williams and the twins were members of the official board.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

A great part of the European defense spotlight now shifts from France to Britain.

France has yielded up the leadership on the subject which she took three years ago. What else she has done, by scuttling the European Defense Community, is best measured by the jubilation in the Kremlin.

The very fact that the French Parliament did not vote for or against EDC, but merely not to act, emphasizes the dangers which beset Europe. The non-Communist voters were overwhelmingly in favor of the treaty. Because they could not achieve any unity, Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was handed victory in one of the greatest battles of the cold war. He conducted a long-term and skillful campaign against EDC with the very object of dividing the French opinion, and with the aid of the inherent difficulties which France faced, he won.

Behind all the shouting there were two supreme barriers to EDC. One grew out of the other. Britain felt that her empire obligations made it impossible for her to join, and France feared she would not be strong enough to "supervise" German rearmament without more binding agreements of support than the executive guarantees offered by the United States and Britain.

The French vote was no sooner announced than the discussion of Britain's new role began in the British press. Some said she would now have to take the leadership, make the sacrifices, enter herself in a more direct way into the defense of the continent, which is her own defense too. Others still considered her empire military obligations to be all she could carry, though they admitted she had fallen heir to the general defense problem.

Britain and the United States have already indicated an intention to put heavy pressure on France to give West German her autonomy preliminary to some other arrangement for rearmament.

The statement Tuesday by Secretary Dulles, that American foreign policy would now have to be revised, and calling for an immediate meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty ministerial council, indicates the first American effort to avoid accepting Germany into NATO, which is a much looser association with fewer safeguards against individual use of the armaments involved. If France finally could not swallow EDC, there seems little hope that she will not veto rearmament of Germany under NATO.

That will bring the European nations up against the problem of forming something like EDC, and against the prospect that it cannot be done without direct and full British participation. If Britain had agreed to join EDC it would have been formed two years ago. Now, to protect her front door, she may have to go even farther than she would have been required to then.

TANCRED made no reply for a moment. Then he asked, quietly, "What's become of Dick Small?"

"I had a letter from him four years ago. He was running a grocery store over in Arkansas. Like I said, I stayed down in Texas. Wouldn't be here now if old Hong Kong hadn't sent for me. Somebody's been giving a friend of his some trouble."

"He stopped, his eyes narrowing. 'You live here, Wes?'"

"I've been her for a little while."

A perplexed frown settled upon Helm's features. "They know who you are?"

"No. I've used a different name since '67."

"The name wouldn't be . . . Bailey?"

Tancred nodded.

"I should have known!" exclaimed Helm. "Smith said you'd killed three men with just three bullets at a place near here . . ."

Then he suddenly winced. "But you're not wearing a gun."

"I never carry one," said Tancred evenly. "I work as a printer."

"Yeah, sure, I'd forgotten," He grinned. "Nobody would suspect that Wes Tancred was a printer."

He looked thoughtfully at Tancred. "By now you've guessed why Smith brought me up here?"

"Me?"

Helm nodded. "Funny, isn't it?"

"Fugger's already brought in Eric Stratemeyer."

Helm whistled. "I've heard of him, even down in Texas."

"And there's a Texas man named Manny Harpending."

"Not in my class."

"Neither Harpending nor Stratemeyer—nor you, Dave—will make me take up a gun. I haven't carried one since the time of Sam Older."

Dave Helm showed relief. "I'm glad to hear that. I—I'd hate to think of facing you across a gun. And I don't mean that just because you happen to be good with a gun. You know that, Wes."

"I know it."

"It's because of . . . well, the past, Wes." He hesitated and the frown came again to his face. "I never came in, Wes. I'm wanted in Missouri and—yes, in Kansas, too. I'm only safe in Texas and I'm not safe there if Hong Kong Smith is against me."

"So you'll take your orders from Smith?"

"I've got to."

Tancred picked up the reins of his mount. "Goodbye, Dave."

Tancred found Luke Miller standing outside the courthouse. The editor came out into the street and talked to him. "Fred Kraft and Walter Combs got in a few minutes ago. They said some people were coming in."

"I talked to a few and got some promises," Tancred said.

"But where are they?" Miller exclaimed. "Only two farmers have come in to vote. We're still behind at least 35 votes."

"There's still two hours."

Miller said wearily: "Take your horse back to the livery stable, then come and vote. We need that vote, and may as well have it."

"But the three men at that stage station here . . . or was that poppycock?"

"That was . . . one of those things. It won't happen again."

TANCRED rode his mount to the livery stable and received a black look from the attendant. "You'd never have got this horse if I'd known what you were going to use it for."

"It's a good horse," said Tancred. "If you were going to sell it, what would you ask for it?"

"More money than you've got." Something about Wes Tancred's manner caused the man to hesitate. Then he said: "What do you want to buy a horse for?"

"Because I like this horse."

"Do you like it a hundred dollars' worth?"

"I might."

At the Texas Saloon he found a place at the far end of the bar, near Lily's office, and ordered a glass of beer. He noted that the office door was partially opened and carrying his beer he went to it. He knocked.

"Yes?" called Lily from inside. "John Bailey."

There was a pause, then she opened the door. "Come in."

He went in and she closed the door. "Have you performed your civic duty of voting?" she asked.

"Isn't that what Hong Kong Smith called it?"

"I wasn't there, but I heard that he voted—along with 60-some Texas men."

"It didn't surprise you that Jacob Fugger had an ace up his sleeve?"

"He's got a packful of aces," Tancred said. "Including one that he doesn't know about yet."

I LLY looked at him in mock surprise. "Well! You, you actually said something that I didn't have to pull out of you."

"That bothers you."

"All right, all right," she said, forcing the usual note of asperity into her tone. "I'll put on a new face and go out there and sing for the boys."

"What are you going to sing, Lily?" Tancred asked, dully.

In the act of turning away from him she whirled and stared at him. "John," she said, slowly, "there's something on your mind—something you want to tell me."

"I think you know."

"I've seen your face while I sang it and I . . . I've been thinking about you. The Turkey Crossing affair . . . your marksmanship against Wild Bill Hickok."

"Yes," he said, "I'm Wes Tancred."

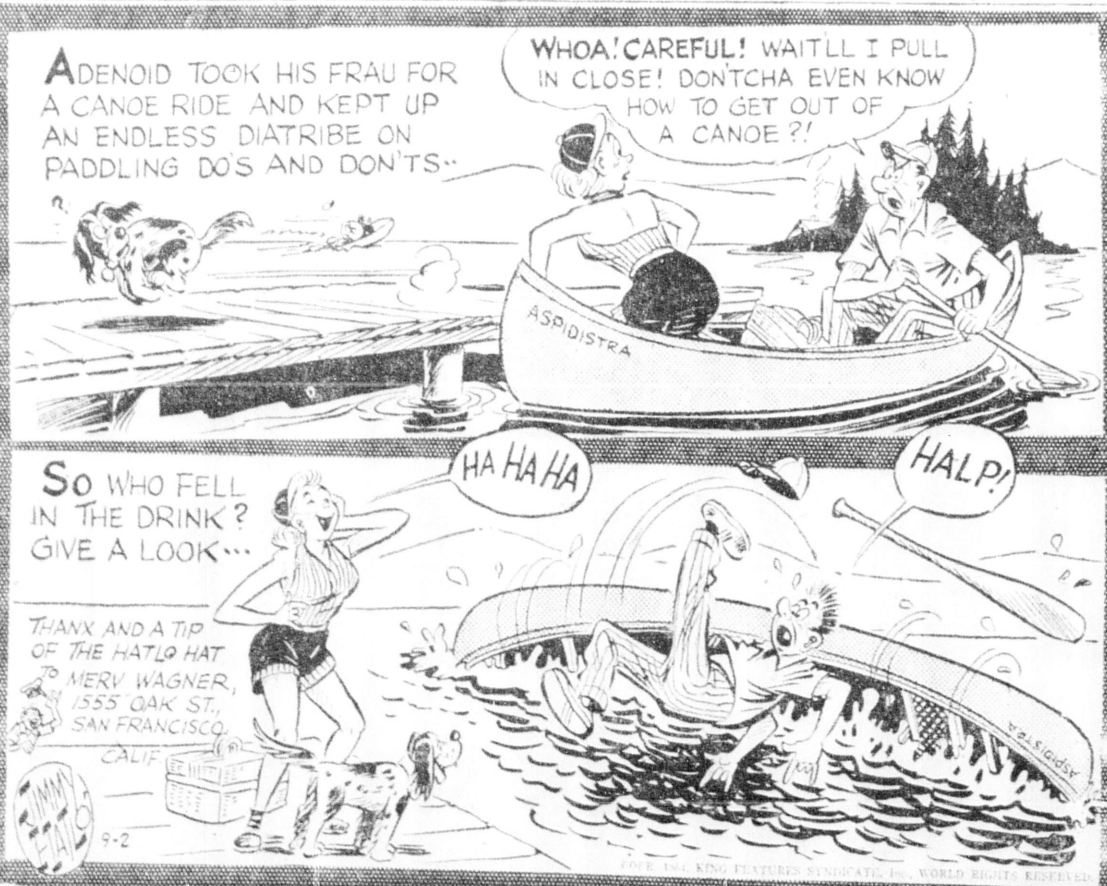

She stared at him wide-eyed.

Old Time Threshing Day Draws Crowd In Jersey

By Arthur Thatcher

JERSEYVILLE—One of the pages was turned backward in the agricultural history of Jersey county Thursday afternoon when an old time steam threshing rig took the field at the Charles Humiston farm in Otter Creek Township and threshed ten acres of wheat in the shock there.

So far as can be ascertained this is the only wheat in the county threshed this season in the old fashioned way. The project of threshing wheat in the old manner has become a hobby with Humiston and his plans for the coming seasons calls for an annual threshing bee at his farm where the modern generation may have the opportunity to view the old way in which the daily bread was obtained years ago.

Humiston was in Jerseyville Monday morning and reported that many people came to the farm to stand by and watch the steam rig in operation. The threshing machine is an Advance Rumley outfit with a Huber separator which is owned by Humiston.

An Old Hand

Humiston operated a threshing machine from the time he was 14 years old. His father, Jason Humiston, threshed in the old days when no mechanical equipment had been developed for farm harvesting. Charles Humiston was taught to run the steam engine when a mere boy and after that he followed the threshing business until the past few years, when the modern combine completely eliminated all demand for steam threshing methods.

This year, Humiston cut ten acres of wheat with the old time binder and shocked it Thursday afternoon. He fired up his steam threshing rig, got set in the location where the straw was to be stacked and the work began.

Instead of the conventional old farm wagon and straw rack for carrying bundles from the field to the threshing rig, five modern trucks did that phase of the operation.

Trucks Faster

It was much speedier getting to and from the field with the trucks, Humiston reported, than the old method of horse drawn bundle wagons. By evening the 10 acre field had been threshed and a fine, new straw stack dotted the landscape. The wheat averaged 26.4 bushels
